Dear Parent / Carer

I am writing to inform you about a new website that has been developed by CEOP (Child Exploitation and Online Protection centre) to provide online safety information for parents.

During the holiday period it may be difficult to know where to turn when presented with challenges relating to children and young people and so I felt that this information may be a useful resource to you offering advice and points of contact.

Developed by CEOP and internet parenting charity Parent Zone, Parent Info provides up-to-date, expert information for parents on a range of concerns they may have about children and young people. From advice on how much sleep a teenager needs to information about relationships, sex and internet safety, Parent Info provides a range of content.

I am sure that you will find that Parent Info provides a range of valuable resources for use in protecting your child from harm.

Other sites that may also be of use are:

www.ceop.police.uk. www.thinkuknow.co.uk. www.cse.siyonatech.com.

www.takethislollipop.com. www.Pace.uk.info. www.mosac.org.uk.

Tarporley High School and Sixth Form College is committed to working in partnership with parents and local organisations to safeguard and protect children and we hope this information provides helpful guidance to support you.

Yours faithfully
